

Bare Ruined Choirs

The Dissolution of the English Monasteries

The late DAVID KNOWLES

An abridged and illustrated edition, prepared for press by the author himself, of Volume III of the late David Knowles' monumental history The Religious Orders in England. Over 50 illustrations—engravings and photographs of monastic buildings and treasures—heighten the author's descriptions of the splendours of the monastic setting and the desolation that followed so swiftly upon the Suppression. £6.50 net

The King's Council in the Reign of Edward VI

DALE E. HOAK

This book describes the membership, business and procedure of the privy council during the royal minority of Edward VI. It examines the policy-making, administrative and quasi-judicial functions of this central institution of Tudor government. £11.50 net

The Secularisation of the European Mind in the Nineteenth Century

OWEN CHADWICK

This book is based on lectures given by Professor Chadwick as the Gifford Lecturer for 1973-4. The author studies from many sides the absorbing question, how does the historian account for the declining hold of the Church and its doctrines on men's minds and lives in later nineteenth-century Europe? £6.50 net

Liberalism and Tradition

Aspects of Catholic Thought in Nineteenth-Century France

BERNARD CHADWICK

A survey of French Catholic thought— theological, philosophical and political— during a period of marked spiritual and intellectual revival. The thinkers and scholars include such diverse figures as Maistre, Lamennais, Lacordaire, Bautin, Gratry, Olle-Laprune, Maurice Blondel and Alfred Loisy. £8.50 net

THE CHURCH

Studies in Dogmatics: Volume 14
by G. C. Berkouwer

In this fourteenth volume of the Studies in Dogmatics series, Berkouwer discusses the attributes of the church as they are expressed in the Nicene Creed.

"(Berkouwer's work) approaches the magnitude of the work of Barth and Brunner in Europe and Ferre in America. It unquestionably marks the author as one of the genuinely significant leaders of Christian thought in our day."

—E. T. Ramsdell

POET AND PEASANT

A Literary-Cultural Approach to the Parables in Luke
by Kenneth E. Bailey

Concentrating on Luke's record, the chairman of the Biblical Department at the Near Eastern School of Theology, Beirut, Lebanon, draws on 20 years of experience with Middle Eastern culture to study the most significant parables of Jesus. He exposes the misunderstandings often imposed on those parables by later Greek and modern Western interpretations, and clarifies the meaning they had in their original cultural setting.

NEW INTERNATIONAL COMMENTARY ON THE OLD TESTAMENT: VOLUME II

Commentary On The Book Of Deuteronomy

by P. C. Cragie

This second volume of the New International Commentary on the Old Testament begins with an introductory discussion of matters of dates, authorship, historical setting, state of the text, unity of composition, and theology of the book of Deuteronomy. The commentary analyzes the structure of the book, provides a select bibliography, and includes the author's own translation from the biblical text.

NEW INTERNATIONAL COMMENTARY ON THE NEW TESTAMENT

Commentary On the Epistle of James
by James B. Adamson

This addition to the N.I.C.N.T. series replaces an earlier volume, The Epistles of James and John by Alexander Ross. The commentary on James includes a paraphrasing summary of the epistle, an introductory discussion of style, Jewish background, and unity of thought, and an in-depth exegetical interpretation from the commentator's own working translation of the text.

THEOLOGY IN RECONCILIATION by Thomas F. Torrance

Throughout its history the church has been embarrassed by division and dissent within—by its own need for reconciliation. In this collection of six essays, Thomas Torrance sets the agenda for a new Christian theology that will reconcile the church to itself and thereby allow a more effective presentation of its message to the world.

HISTORICAL TRANSCENDENCE AND THE REALITY OF GOD

by Ray S. Anderson

A significant, new study of the problem of the transcendence of God: how do we assert simultaneously the absolute difference of God from everything else and His relationship to everything else? The author's depth of vision and wide range of documentation make this an important explication of a highly complex theological question.
