
Digitized by Google
Original from
THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY

The Green Vase

By

W. R. CASTLE, JR.

This story, possessing a combination of qualities that do not often come together, is emphatically worth while. In its characters, its setting, its careful development of a perfectly natural and not infrequent human situation, it shows workmanship of something more than ordinary talent. The initial problem, a young woman marrying for love a strong, ambitious man, whose big heart she recognizes under his surface vulgarity, while at the same time she cannot deny herself the rather dangerous friendship of another man who in social position, inborn refinement and wealth represents all the unattainable things that her finer self craves—this in itself would have made a good story if worked out simply and naturally, as at first the book gives promise of doing. But the sudden unforeseen, remarkable twist given to events by the author produces a novel of real strength and power, one that provokes thought dis... ...icks in the m...

...mpany
ew York

& Company
New York

Digitized by Google
Original from THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY

We were busily engaged in running through the packet when a slight noise made us look around (page 58)

Digitized by Google

Original from
THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY

Midnight at Mears House

A Detective Story

By

HARRISON JEWELL HOLT

Author of

"The Calendared Isles"

ILLUSTRATED BY

M. J. SPERO

NEW YORK

DODD, MEAD AND COMPANY

1912

Digitized by Google

Original from

THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY

"There is something queer going on, something I do not understand. It frightens me" (page 193)

Digitized by Google

Original from
THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY