Retirements

Carol Hunter, deputy university librarian at the University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill (UNC-CH), has retired. She joined the UNC-CH Library in 2010 as associate university librarian for collections and services. From January until August 15, 2017, Hunter served as interim university librarian and vice provost for university libraries. She also was interim director of the Louis Round Wilson Special Collections Library and associate university librarian for special collections in 2016. Hunter joined UNC-CH after 12 years at the University of Virginia Library, where she held increasingly responsible posts leading to her appointment as associate university librarian for public services and collections. Hunter has chaired and served on numerous committees during her career, including as a member of the Triangle Research Libraries Network Advisory Council, chair of the Resource Advisory Committee of the NC Live statewide digital library, and chair of an ALA interest group for chief collection development officers at large research libraries. At UNC-CH, Hunter chaired the University Committee on Copyright for several years. Hunter was a UCLA Senior Fellow in 2010, an EDUCAUSE Frye Leadership Institute Fellow in 2008, and a participant in the 2005 ACRL/Harvard Leadership Institute. She has published and presented extensively about collections, public services, and managing digital scholarship services. RL
