The Library Administration Division is attempting to compile a directory of Friends of the Library groups and needs to identify such groups associated with academic libraries. If your library has a Friends group, regardless of its formality, please send the name and address of the chairman to Barry Simon, American Library Association, 50 E. Huron St., Chicago, IL 60611. A brief questionnaire will be mailed in the near future.

TO NEWS READERS

As you have probably noticed, we have been experimenting with ways to enable you to scan the News quickly and pick out those items which are of particular interest to you. We would very much like suggestions about how we can make the News more readable and useful.

The News functions as a medium for the exchange of information about what is going on in the academic library world. To do this we need input. Please take a brief moment to write a note to your personnel or public relations office asking that we be put on the mailing list for new appointments, press releases, and especially house organs. Thank you!

ISI's Search Service:

Next best thing to owning your own Science Citation Index®.

Many libraries that don't own the Science Citation Index often "rent" the use of it through our Search Service.

Just tell us what subject you want searched, and how fast you need the journal literature (1961-73) you want to cover, and we'll put one of our Information Specialists to work with an SCI® and send you the results on convenient index cards. If you're in a big hurry, we'll even telephone the search results.

The minimum charge is $50, for which you get up to two hours of searching. Thereafter, it's $95 per hour. You tell us when to stop.

Use the coupon for more information on Search Service.

Please send additional information on ISI's Search Service.
