DEATHS

MARIE E. ANGELOTTI, until recently the assistant director for library services at Florida Atlantic University, died October 17 in Boca Raton, Florida.

FORD CURTIS, professor emeritus of English at the University of Pittsburgh, died on September 24. In 1960 Curtis and his wife donated to the University Libraries the Ford and Harriet Curtis Theatre Collection, composed of books, programs, and memorabilia collected over many years of avid theatergoing. Curtis served as curator from 1961 to 1975, during which time he undertook an expansion of the collection by donations from numerous theatrical sources.

BARBARA ELAINE NICHOLSON, assistant director of libraries at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, and president-elect of the Academic Library Association of Ohio, died on August 31 in Hamilton, Ohio. She had served as physics-astronomy librarian at the University of Texas at Austin, 1968-70; head science librarian at Miami University, 1970-72; and assistant director of libraries at Miami University, 1972-79. Memorial contributions in her name may be made to Miami University's Women's Resource Center, c/o Miami University Fund, Murstein Alumni Center, Oxford, Ohio. ■■

Publications

RECEIVED

(Selected items will be reviewed in future issues of College & Research Libraries.)

• Aaron and Elaine Cohen's Designing and Space Planning for Libraries: A Behavioral Guide (Bowker, 1979, $24.95) presents the authors' views (one an architect, the other a behaviorist) on how to set up a library and give equal recognition to human behavior as well as to aesthetics and building function. In addition to discussions on planning and layout of library space, the authors also include information on choice of furniture and equipment; lighting, power, and energy; color and signage; and acoustics.

• Frances Simonsen Bernhardt's Introduction to Library Technical Services (H. W. Wilson, 1979, $15) has been prepared "as a textbook for a course in technical services in a two-year library/media technology program" and is designed not only for such students but also for those working in a library as well as those contemplating a career decision.

• Charles L. Bernier and A. Neil Yerkey's Cogent Communication: Overcoming Reading Overload (Greenwood, 1979, $19.95), presenting two aspects of the problem—the unreadable abundance of relevant material and the inability to use what has been read, gives the authors' discussion of methods used to cope with the problem and introduces the principle of cogency (the intelligent and productive use of what is read). This volume is number 26 in Greenwood's Contributions in Librarianship and Information Science.

• The International Federation of Film Archives Cataloging Commission has recently issued Film Cataloging, designed as a practical and up-to-date guide to the theory and practice of film cataloging. Published by Burt Franklin, 1979. Price: $17.95

• The University Press of Virginia has brought together in the volume Selected Studies in Bibliography (1979, $15) eleven of the articles by G. Thomas Tanselle, published from 1967 through 1979 and treating the theory and tools of bibliography, problems dealing with bindings and papers in descriptive bibliography, and textual criticism and editing.

• The proceedings of the twenty-fourth Allerton Park Institute, 1978, Supervision of Employees in Libraries, edited by Rolland E. Stevens, has been issued by the University of Illinois Graduate School of Library Science. Price: $9.

• Volume 9 of Advances in Librarianship, edited by Michael H. Harris (Academic Pr., 1979, $21), includes six papers: David K. Berninghausen on intellectual freedom; Thomas J. Waldhart and Trudi Bellardo on user fees in publicly funded libraries; Charles W. Evans on paraprofessional library employees; Rosemary and Paul Du Mont on measuring library effectiveness; Abraham Bookstein and Karl Kocher on operations research; and George W. Whitbeck, Jean Major, and Herbert S. White on funding support for library research.

• A new reference work on government documents is Frederic O'Hara's Guide to Publications of the Executive Branch (Pierian Pr., 1979, $29.50 cloth, $15.00 paper), which has separate chapters treating each of the departments.

• Pierian Press continues its Library Research Guide series with its third volume, James R. Kennedy's Library Research Guide to Education: Illustrated Search Strategies and Sources. Price: $8.50 cloth, $4.50 paper. ■■

Exceptional Scholarship on Major American Writers . . .

CRITICAL ESSAYS ON AMERICAN LITERATURE

General Editor, JAMES NAGEL, Northeastern University

Critical Essays on American Literature presents the best of original and reprinted essays on major American writers from 1620 to the present. Each volume in the series is edited by an outstanding scholar known for expertise on the subject author. The series often will present the only collection of criticism available on a subject. Here are the four latest additions, which will be available in February.

CRITICAL ESSAYS ON HARRIET BEECHER STOWE

edited by Elizabeth Ammons
0-8161-8260-4 $18.50

The first collection of criticism on Harriet Beecher Stowe. Among the critics represented in this collection are Stowe's contemporaries: George Sand, George Eliot, Bret Harte, Charles Dudley Warner, W. D. Howells, Henry James, and Sarah Orne Jewett. Also represented are Paul Laurence Dunbar, Langston Hughes, and James Baldwin. Among the modern scholars whose essays are included are Constance Rourke, Leslie Fiedler, Edmund Wilson, and Anthony Burgess.

CRITICAL ESSAYS ON GEORGE WASHINGTON CABLE

edited by Arlin Turner
0-8161-8256-6 $25.00

An extensive introduction by editor Arlin Turner commences this collection of criticism on the writings of George Washington Cable. This is the first collection of essays on Cable, and several items written by him are published here for the first time. Included are previously unpublished essays — prepared from original manuscripts — by Lafcadio Hearn, D. Warren Brickell, and Weir Mitchell.

CRITICAL ESSAYS ON MARGARET FULLER

edited by Joel Myerson
0-8161-8283-3 $18.50

This is the first collection of critical essays on Margaret Fuller since her death nearly 130 years ago. The editor presents essays by Fuller's contemporaries: Bronson Alcott, Henry James, and Poe, as well as assessments by twentieth-century critics: Austin Warren, Oscar Cargill, V. L. Parrington, Henry A. Pochman, and Madeleine Stern.

CRITICAL ESSAYS ON JONATHAN EDWARDS

edited by William J. Scheick
0-8161-8304-X $25.00

Critical Essays on Jonathan Edwards covers more than 250 years of criticism on the leading theologian of the American colonial period. William Scheick's comprehensive introduction represents a definitive statement of the place of Edwards in American literature and an assessment of the critical record of scholarship of Edwards. The volume includes an original essay by Wayne Lesser, "Jonathan Edwards: Textuality and the Language of Man."

ACADEMIC LIBRARY CONSULTANTS CHOSEN

Twenty academic librarians have been selected to take part in the Consultant Training Program operated by the Office of Management Studies of the Association of Research Libraries. The librarians chosen will serve as consultants to libraries conducting self-studies under the Academic Library Program. One hundred librarians will participate in the program over the next five years.

The consultants who were selected for the first year of the program are: Noreen S. Alldredge, Texas A&M University; Bella Z. Berson, Yale University; Keith M. Cottam, Joint University Libraries, Nashville; Howard W. Dillon, University of Chicago; Joanne R. Euster, Loyola University, New Orleans; Larry Hardesty, De Pauw University, Greencastle, Indiana; Fred Milton Heath, Radford College, Radford, Virginia; Phyllis E. Jaynes, Dartmouth College; William Goodrich Jones, Northwestern University; Marianne Kozlowski, Southern Illinois University; Charles Lowry, Elon College, North Carolina; Donna L. McCool, Washington State University; Neosha Ann Mackey, Ohio State University; Eleanor A. Montague, University of California, Riverside; Roger H. Parent, American Library Association; Anne Peyton, Dartmouth College; Dennis E. Robison, University of Richmond, Virginia; Grace M. Ross, Library of Congress; Jordan Michael Scepanski, Joint University Libraries, Nashville; and Sara Lou Whildin, Pennsylvania State University. ■■

COMMUNITY COLLEGE AND CITY LIBRARY LINKED

The Napa Community College Library and Napa City-County Library in California have received a Library Services and Construction Act grant to coordinate collection development and merge their circulation systems.

By cooperating in collection development the college library and the city system hope to provide better service and at the same time avoid unnecessary duplication. Under the merged circulation system, patrons at the college will be able to transact business with the public library system directly from the college campus by computer hookup. Public library patrons will for the first time be able to check books out of the college library.

While the basic policies and philosophies of each library will remain intact, they will share a uniform borrower's card, a delivery service, a common circulation system, and a coordinating service staff. ■■

Classified Advertising

NOTICE

Respondents to advertisers offering faculty "rank" and "status" are advised that these terms are ambiguous and should inquire as to benefits involved.

All advertisements for the "Positions Wanted" and the "Positions Open" classifications will be edited to exclude direct or indirect references to race, creed, color, age, and sex as conditions of employment. The American Library Association requires a salary range for all "Positions Open."

Classified advertising orders and copy, and cancellations, should be addressed to: Riley K. Tate, Administrative Secretary, Association of College and Research Libraries, American Library Association, 50 E. Huron St., Chicago, IL 60611, and should reach that office the second of the month preceding publication of issue desired. Copy received after that time may be held for the next issue. To insure that readers have sufficient lead time to respond to "Positions Open," advertisers must list closing dates no sooner than the end of the month of publication.

Telephone orders for classified advertising, while not encouraged because of the increased risk of copy error, will be accepted. Calls should be directed to the ACRL office at (312) 944-6780. A confirming order should be mailed to ACRL as soon as possible following the call, along with typewritten copy to be used in proofreading the ad.

Rate for classified advertising is $1.80 per printed line to ACRL members ($5.40 minimum); $2.25 per printed line to non-ACRL members ($6.75 minimum). Individuals who advertise on behalf of organizations will be charged according to the organization's membership status.
