

Jane Carlin, head librarian at the University of Cincinnati College of Design, Architecture, Art, and Planning, has been elected to the Executive Board of the Art Libraries Society as the Midwestern representative. Her two-year term begins in April.

Cheryl LaGuardia, coordinator of the Electronic Teaching Center in the Harvard College Library, has received the 1996 School of Information Science and Policy Distinguished Alumni Award from the State University of New York at Albany's Nelson A. Rockefeller College of Public Affairs and Policy. LaGuardia earned her MLS from SUNY/Albany in 1978.

James G. Neal, Sheridan director of the Milton S. Eisenhower Library at Johns Hopkins University, has been elected vice-president/president-elect of the Association of Research Libraries (ARL). He will serve one year as vice-president, then assume the presidency in October 1997. Elected to three-year terms on the ARL Board of Directors were: Shirley K. Baker, vice-chancellor of information technology and dean of University Libraries at Washington University; Kenneth Frazier, director of the University of Wisconsin-Madison General Library System; and William Gray Potter, director of libraries at the University of Georgia.

Appointments

Jonathan A. Birnbaum has been appointed director of library services at Lakeland Community College in Mentor, Ohio.

Kathy A. Kaldenberg has been named head librarian at Kaskaskia College in Centralia, Illinois. Most recently Kaldenberg served as regional librarian for Troy State University's Western Region at Holloman Air Force Base in New Mexico. She has also worked for the City of Mountain View Public Library in Mountain View, California, and Burlington County Library in Mount Holly, New Jersey.

Naomi C. Broering has been appointed executive director of the Houston Academy of Medicine's Texas Medical Center Library. Broering has served since 1978 as Medical Center librarian of the Dahlgren Memorial Library at Georgetown University Medical Center. She also served as director of the Biomedical Information Resources Center at Georgetown since 1985. Current president of the Medical Library Association (MLA), Broering is also a fellow of the American Medical Informatics Association, and a distinguished member of the Academy of Health Information Professionals. She has received many awards, including MLA's 1986 Frank Bradway Rogers Information Advancement Award for developing the Library Information System and the miniMEDLINE system, and the Special Library Association's 1987 Professional Award for her work on IAIMS.

Naomi C. Broering

Victoria Montavon has been named associate provost for libraries and information services at Wright State University. She joins Wright State from Saint Joseph's University where she served as university librarian. Her previous positions include associate director of library services at Rider University and head librarian at Lindenwood College. A current member of the ACRL Board of Directors, Montavon previously served as president of the PALINET Board of Trustees.

Victoria Montavon

Charles W. Triche III has been appointed director of the Edith Garland Dupre Library at the University of Southwestern Louisiana (USL). Triche has been employed by USL Libraries in various capacities for more than 20 years. He has been associate director since 1993.

Grace Agnew is now assistant director for systems at the Georgia Tech Library & Information Center.

Jill Baker is now a reference librarian and information consultant for aerospace engineering and materials science and engineering at Georgia Tech Library & Information Center.

Scott Boito is now reference librarian at the Georgia Tech Library & Information Center.

Kitty Canepi recently joined the East Tennessee State University Libraries as extended campus services librarian.

Jeanne Drewes has been appointed head of preservation at the Milton S. Eisenhower Library, Johns Hopkins University.

Cheryl Ewing is now health sciences reference librarian at Ohio University's Alden Library.

E. Christian Filstrup is now associate director for collection management, organization, and preservation at North Carolina State University.

Jim Fox is now associate dean for public and collection development services at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

Anne Garrison is now reference librarian at the Georgia Tech Library & Information Center.

William A. Gosling has been appointed interim director of the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Library.

Brian Hancock has been named humanities librarian at Wichita State University.

Kelly Hensley recently joined the East Tennessee State University Libraries as interlibrary loan librarian.

Jerry Hostetler is now director for instructional support services at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

Chengren Hu is now head of automation services at Virginia Commonwealth University.

Laura Hudson is now a reference librarian at Ohio University.

Karen Ingish is now information science and technology librarian in the Public Services Department at the University of Nebraska.

Florence Jumonville has been named head librarian of Louisiana and special collections at the University of New Orleans.

Robert Keating has been appointed cataloging services manager at Baker Library in the Harvard University Graduate School of Business.

Todd D. Kelley has been named associate dean of information services/director of technology innovation at Connecticut College.

David Koch is now associate dean for special collections and development at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

Kurt F. Kuss has joined the Ladd Library at Bates College as special collections librarian.

Katy Libby is now catalog librarian at East Tennessee State University Libraries.

Kathleen McQuiston is now librarian/program manager for information resources selection at Bertrand Library, Bucknell University.

Edward T. Morman is now associate librarian for historical collection and programs at the New York Academy of Medicine.

James Morris has been named librarian/manager of library systems at Bertrand Library, Bucknell University.

Angela Murphy-Walters has been named catalog librarian at the East Tennessee State University Libraries.

David J. Nutty is now associate university librarian for information services and technology at the George Washington University.

Allison Ounanian has been appointed corporate information librarian in the Baker Library at Harvard University's Graduate School of Business.

Virginia Polley recently joined the East Tennessee State University Libraries as online searching librarian.

Catherine Rhodes is now health sciences reference librarian at Ohio University's Alden Library.

Michelle Rossman has been appointed reference librarian at Lakeland Community College in Mentor, Ohio.

Thyra Russell is now associate dean for personnel and budget services at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

Mara R. Saule has been named director for collection management services at the Bailey/Howe Library, University of Vermont, Burlington.

Andrea Schulman returned to Harvard University as reference librarian/project manager in the Baker Library of the Graduate School of Business.

Brent Sverdlhoff has been appointed reference archivist in the Historical Collections De-

Remembering Robert Vosper (1914-1994) and Beth Shapiro (1946-1995)

Robert Vosper

Robert Vosper, former university librarian at the University of California (UC), Los Angeles, died in May at the age of 80. Vosper began his career as a librarian at UC-Berkeley in 1940, worked in the Reference Department at Stanford University, became head of the Department of Acquisitions at UCLA in 1944, and served as UCLA's first assistant librarian and first associate librarian. He retired from UCLA in 1973. Vosper served as president of ACRL in 1955-56, ALA president in 1965-66, and IFLA president from 1971-77. (Reprinted from C&RL News, October 1994.)

Beth Shapiro

Beth Janet Shapiro, Rice University vice-provost and university librarian, died of cancer August 3 at the age of 49. Shapiro began her career in 1972 as urban policy and planning librarian at Michigan State University (MSU), where she advanced through a number of positions to become deputy director of the MSU Libraries in 1988. She joined Rice in 1991 to become the first woman to hold the position of university librarian. A member of ALA, Shapiro was also a member of the Association of Research Libraries and the American Sociological Association. Her book, Selection of Library Materials in Applied and Interdisciplinary Fields, was published by ALA in 1987. (Reprinted from C&RL News, October 1995.)

Beth Shapiro

partment of Baker Library in the Harvard University Graduate School of Business.

John Tofanelli is now librarian for English, American, and comparative literatures, and film studies at the Milton S. Eisenhower Library, Johns Hopkins University.

Curt White has been appointed assistant dean of the Graduate School of Library and Information Science at Rosary College in River Forest, Illinois.

Laura Windsor is now a reference librarian at Ohio University.

Don Wood is now director for systems and budget services at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

Barbara A. Wright is now outreach services manager at Tompkins-McCaw Library, Virginia Commonwealth University.

Brian K. Yost is now technical services/electronic resources librarian at Hope College's Van Wylen Library, Holland, Michigan.

He had held that position since 1971. Before that Carvalho served as assistant librarian at Castleton State College in Vermont and government documents librarian at Brandeis University. Professionally active, he served on the Association of Asian Studies Committee on East Asian Libraries, on the East Asian Studies Program Executive Committee, and as a member of the Japan Foundation. From May 1991 to January 1994 Carvalho took a leave from KU to establish, from the ground up, a new library facility in Akita, Japan, for Minnesota State University.

Ann de Klerk will retire as director of library and information services at Bucknell University as of May 31. She will have directed the Bertrand Library, including instructional media services, for 16 years. From 1965 to 1981 she held various positions at Carnegie Mellon University, including head of the Engineering and Science Library and associate director of university libraries. de Klerk has been active in ACRL, the American Society for Information Services, the Coalition for Networked Information, and the Pennsylvania Library Association. She is a founding member of the Pennsylvania Academic Libraries Connection Initiative, and participated in PRLC and PALINET committees, serving on PALINET's Board of Trustees. From 1991 to 1996 she represented PALINET as an OCLC Users' Council delegate.

Ann de Klerk

Retirements

Gene Carvalho, East Asian librarian at the University of Kansas (KU), retired in February.

Norman Jung retired in January after 20 years as the director of the library at the State University of New York (SUNY) College at Old Westbury. Before that Jung worked for ten years at SUNY-Stony Brook first as head of circulation then as head of reference. He also worked for three years in the Graduate Reference Department at Cornell University.

Donald S. Keener, associate director for administration at the North Carolina State University (NCSU) Libraries since 1990, retired in January after 35 years of service. Keener began his career at NCSU in 1962 as head of the Hill Library's Circulation Department. In 1971 he was promoted to assistant director for general services. During his years there, he led both the planning and implementing of two ninety-story bookstack additions to the libraries.

Advertiser index

Academic Press	152
Acropolis Books	139
American Inst. of Physics	214
American Mathematical	170
Amer. Soc. for Civil Eng.	158
Ameritech Library Serv.	182
ASM International	191, 205
Baker & Taylor	138
Blackwell's	175
R. R. Bowker	165, 188
Britannica Online	176
Brodart Publishing	180
CARL Corporation	207
CISTI	151
Dictionary of Art	193
EBSCO	cover 2
Gale Research	171
Gaylord Brothers	144, cover 4
GEAC Computers	215
Haworth Press	183
Hoover	189
Information Quest	208
Jossey-Bass	206
McGraw-Hill	159
Minolta	184-85
Nature Publishing	200
OCLC	143, 194
PAIS	192
Roper Center	137
Scriptorium	196
SilverPlatter	202
SIRSI Corp.	cover 3
Sociological Abstracts	178
Spacesaver	166
Univ. of Calif. Press	199
H. W. Wilson	142
WLN	203

Deaths

Judy Atkinson, a half-time reference librarian at the University of British Columbia's Sedgewick Library, died in September at the age of 52. Atkinson began her career as an assistant in the Circulation Division in 1967, then became assistant circulation librarian in 1971. Following a year of exchange work as a reference librarian at the University of New South Wales, she became assistant head of Sedgewick Library in 1973. Between 1982 and the start of her disability leave in 1994, Atkinson worked as a half-time reference librarian in Sedgewick.

Sheila Hertstein, a member of the City College of New York (CUNY) Library Department for 32 years, died in August after a year-long illness. She was 53. Beginning her career with CUNY in 1964, Hertstein worked in the Social Science Reading Room. She later headed the Reference Division, then served as collection development coordinator, acting chief of the Reference Division, and bibliographer for the Reference Collection and for history, Jewish studies, and women's studies. She was very active in university affairs, serving on several committees and boards.

Ed. note: To ensure that your personnel news is considered for publication, write to Pam Spiegel, Production Editor, C&RL News, 50 E. Huron St., Chicago, IL 60611-2795; e-mail: pspiegel@ala.org.

ALA announces 1996-97 library fellows

ALA has selected participants for the 1996-97 Library Fellows Program which provides fellowships for American librarians to undertake projects abroad, and for foreign librarians to work in American libraries. Academic librarians from the U.S. selected this year are: Ibtessam Dessouky, Northern Illinois University, will work at the Egyptian Parliamentary Library in Cairo; Carol Elliott, University of Arizona, will work at the Judicial Service in Accra, Ghana; Mounir Khalil, City College of New York, will work at the Al-Bayt University in Al-Mafraq, Jordan; Joseph Pagano, National Library of Medicine, will work at the State Scientific Library in Usti Nad Labem, Czech Republic; Marie Paiva, University of Utah, will work at the National Library in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia; John Sheridan, Colorado College, will work at the Library of the University of Kyiv-Mohyla Academy in Kyiv, Ukraine; Vera Skop, Greenwich Library, will work at the National Parliamentary Library in Kyiv, Ukraine; Monica Wong, El Paso Community College, will work at the Israel Center for Libraries in Jerusalem; Victoria York, Montana State University, will work at the University of Brasilia in Brazil.

The international library fellows chosen are: Yupin Chancharoensin, Chulalonghorn University in Bangkok, will work at the University of Oregon, Eugene; Fernando Gonzalez, Universidad de las Americas in Mexico City, will work at Emory University's Woodruff Library; Nora Estela Luaces, Mario Moreno Public Library and Cultural Center in Quilmes, Argentina, will work at the Pioneer Library System and the University of Oklahoma-Norman; Nisa Luangthongkum, Parliamentary Library Division in Bangkok, Thailand, will work at the University of Michigan's Hatcher Library, Ann Arbor; and Eloisa Vargas, Bolivian Congressional Library in La Paz, will work at Brigham Young University's Lee Library.

Karl H. Proehl, former senior assistant librarian and head of the Maps Collection at Penn State University, died in November. Before joining Penn State in 1977, Proehl served as maps librarian at the State University of New York. Professionally active, Proehl served as chair of the Special Libraries Association's Geography and Map Division and associate editor of its Bulletin; chair of the North American Cartographic Information Society's Publications Committee and editor of its newsletter, Map Gap; and as a member of the American Geographical Society, the Association of American Geographers, and the Pennsylvania Library Association.

W. David Rozkuszka, a former librarian at Stanford University, died in January at the age of 53. The cause was AIDS-related lymphoma. Rozkuszka joined Stanford in 1967 and served there as foreign documents librarian, head of the Jonsson Library of Government Documents, and international documents librarian and African and Middle Eastern bibliographer. He retired in 1994. Colleague Ann Latta recalled, "David's legacy to Stanford was building one of the finest foreign documents collections in the U.S." Rozkuszka was a member of ACRL's Western European Studies Section and the Seminar on Acquisition of Latin American Materials. An annual scholarship for library science students has been set up in his name by ALA's Government Documents Round Table.

Eileen Thornton, librarian of Oberlin College from 1956 to 1971, died in January at the age of 87. A graduate of the University of Minnesota in 1931, Thornton earned her MLS from the University of Chicago in 1945. Before joining Oberlin, she served as college librarian at the University of Chicago (1942-45) and at Vassar College (1945-56). A life member of ALA, she served on ALA Council and was president of ACRL (1957-58) and LAMA (1967-68). She received a distinguished service award from ACRL in 1989. ■

Eileen Thornton

Are you connected?

Join the many print subscribers who now enjoy FREE online access to AIP journals

LOG ON TO AIP JOURNALS
ON THE
WORLD WIDE WEB

If you subscribe to any AIP print journal in 1997, you'll get free access to a searchable online version of that journal. It's that easy. With the Online Journal Service, you'll receive your Web version up to three weeks prior to print publication. It's that fast. And there's much more.

In addition to reading the full text of your journal online, with AIP's Online Journal Service you can:

- ☑ Browse tables of contents and abstracts of all AIP and Member Society journals
- ☑ Search abstract databases covering 80 journals weeks before their availability on most abstracting services
- ☑ Print and save articles including all figures, equations, and tables
- ☑ Request articles from journals to which you don't subscribe via AIP's document delivery service, Articles In Physics
- ☑ Use other physics resources including: late-breaking physics news, contact information for colleagues worldwide, discussion forums, and more

Visit the AIP Web site for more information
To subscribe call
Fax
E-mail

AIP Archival Journals

Applied Physics Letters

Chaos

Journal of Applied Physics

The Journal of Chemical
Physics

Journal of Mathematical Physics

Physics of Fluids

Physics of Plasmas

Review of Scientific Instruments

AIP Translation Journals

JETP Letters

Journal of Experimental and Theoretical Physics

Low Temperature Physics

Physics of Particles and Nuclei

Physics of the Solid State

Semiconductors

Technical Physics

Technical Physics Letters

www.aip.org
800-344-6902
516-349-9704
online@aip.org

AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF PHYSICS

Expanding Access to Global Information

“Total Solutions at Work”

Looking for an easy to use Internet Access Solution supporting Z39.50 retrieval from your patron's home, office, dorm room, or from within your library?

Looking for a flexible Client/Server Solution combining access to bibliographic and multi-media resources from a powerful research workstation?

Looking for a versatile Library Automation Solution that simplifies and expands your library's access to global information?

Look No Further – Contact Geac today for more information on GeoWeb, GeoPac, ADVANCE and PLUS.

Geac Computers, Inc.

800-825-2574 (Telephone) 508-871-6850 (Fax)
info@geac.com <http://www.geac.com>

Visit us at our booth,
216.