To best serve your needs, we have formed five problem-solving service teams to help take the hassle out of book-buying. Each team is composed of a Sales Representative in the field and a Customer Service Representative in our home office.

Once alerted by your phone call made on our Toll-Free WATS Line, 1-800-325-8833, (Missouri customers, please call COLLECT 0-314-739-3100) your problem-solving team, geographically assigned to your library, goes into action immediately.

BARBARA GREENER, who has been on the staff of the Queens College Library, Flushing, New York, since 1950, recently retired as music librarian.

DEATHS

SCOTT ADAMS, deputy director of the National Library of Medicine from 1960 to 1969, died in Louisville, Kentucky, on October 3. He had previously served as chief of the Army Medical Library's acquisition division; librarian of the National Institutes of Health; and director of the Foreign Science Information Program of the National Science Foundation.

HARLAN C. BROWN, former director of the D.H. Hill Library, North Carolina State University, Raleigh, died on October 10. Brown became director of the library in 1939 and retired in 1971 as the library's associate director.

MARY LOIS BULL, former University of Illinois personnel librarian, died in Urbana on October 30. She received her bachelor of science degree from Central Missouri University and her MLS from the University of Illinois. In 1927 she joined the University of Illinois Library as assistant to the library director. In 1951 she was named personnel librarian, a position she held until her retirement in 1967. In 1969 she returned to the library to help piece together 15,000 partially destroyed catalog cards.

Her collection of cartoons about libraries and librarians was displayed at the University of Illinois Urbana and Chicago campuses some time ago and will be donated to the university library.

PRISCILLA MCGUIRE PEREIRA, humanities and education reference librarian at the Library of the Graduate School and University Center, City University of New York, since 1969, died suddenly on November 8. ■■

Papers Anyone?

The International Association for Social Science Information Service and Technology (IASSIST) is soliciting papers for its 1983 annual meeting at the Warwick Hotel in Philadelphia, May 19-22. Fifteen papers will be presented in the following areas:

1) Data Services, including organizations and structures for providing data services. Examples: communicating with users, data dissemination, data enhancements. 2) Hardware and Software. Examples: microcomputers and legal issues, analysis of social networks, storage and technology. 3) Data Files, including new data sources, new uses for old data, and new directions for data collection. Examples: cross-national datasets, issues of privacy and confidentiality.

Send a letter of intent or abstract by February 15 to: Sue Dodd, Institute for Research in Social Science, Room 25 Manning Hall 026A, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, NC 27514; (919) 966-3346.

Meckler Publishing is also calling for papers for its annual conferences for serials, microforms, and government documents to be held in Crystal City, Virginia, in November, 1983. Papers may address the conference theme of "Standards" or be related to significant current issues in serials, microforms or documents work in libraries.

Abstracts are due March 1 and final papers must be completed by July 1. Send abstracts to Meckler Communications Conference 1983, 520 Riverside Avenue, Westport, CT 06880.

ACRL Testifies

The National Commission on Excellence in Education was established in August 1981 by Secretary of Education T.H. Bell to improve the quality of American education. The Commission is charged with making recommendations to the nation and to the Secretary on promoting excellence in public and private schools and in colleges and universities. A series of six hearings was held throughout the United States and ACRL members testified on the contribution libraries can make to excellence in education at two of the hearings.

Patricia Senn Breivik, director of the Auraria Library in Denver, testified at hearings on "Education and Work." Artemis Kirk, director of the Simmons College Library, Boston, testified on "Education for the Gifted and Talented." Copies of their testimony are available on loan from ACRL Headquarters.

Julie Carroll Virgo, ACRL executive director, also sent a letter on behalf of the ACRL Board to David Pierpont Gardner, president of the University of Utah and chair of the Commission, expressing ACRL's interest in their work and indicating the Association's willingness to contribute in any way which may aid them.

FIRST DAY COVERS

In case you missed the first day covers for the America's Libraries stamp which were sold at Annual Conference in Philadelphia, there are still a few available. The official ALA first day covers cost $2 each and sport a handsome engraved cachet of Benjamin Franklin. Send check or money order for the full amount plus 50¢ to First Day Cover, ALA, 50 E. Huron St., Chicago, IL 60611.

The ALA Washington Office has also issued a first day cover for the stamp, proceeds from which will help defray expenses of ALA witnesses testifying at congressional hearings. The covers are available at two for $5 (minimum order) by sending a stamped, self-addressed #10 envelope to ALA Washington Office, 110 Maryland Ave., N.E., Box 54, Washington, DC 20002. ■■
