ACRL Needs Volunteers!

The Association of College and Research Libraries is anxious to give all interested members the opportunity of serving on its committees. If you are interested in volunteering for a committee assignment, either in the division or in a section, please complete the form on page 247 and send it to the ACRL office. ACRL's divisional and section committees are listed in the ALA Handbook of Organization.

In addition, the ACRL Committee on Appointments and Nominations and the ACRL section nominating committees (members of which are listed below) are seeking candidates for nomination for election to divisional and section offices. Persons interested in making recommendations or in being considered for nomination should contact a member of the appropriate committee before the 1975 Mid-winter Meeting.

Literary Interpretations of Biblical Narratives (The Bible in Literature Courses)
 The first of an innovative series of books being produced under the auspices of the Institute on Teaching the Bible in Secondary English, Indiana University. The trend toward elective courses in public schools, increasing interest in the Bible as an academic study source, and the opening of academic Bible reading in public schools have created the need for this series. The first volume presents introductory material and sixteen literary analyses of various parts of the Bible. Edited by Kenneth R. R. Gros Louis, with James S. Ackerman and Thayer S. Warsaw. Paper, $6.95

The Story of American Methodism
 The productive history of Methodism from its beginnings in England to its present-day status: ideas on Methodist thought, politics, educational systems, expansion, etc. Also included is the story of the Evangelical United Brethren as a part of The United Methodist Church. Frederick A. Norwood. Cloth, $17.95; paper, $9.95

Death and Eastern Thought
Understanding Death in Eastern Religions and Philosophies
 From the Vedic Period up through contemporary philosophers such as Gandhi and Tagore, scholars study contemplations on mortality, castes, and reincarnation. Although the major emphasis is on Indian thought, chapters on China and Japan extend the coverage and usefulness of this book. Edited by Frederick H. Holck. Cloth, $12.95; paper, $4.95

When they need that special

More than 2,600 entries on a wide variety of topics include passages from the Bible, lines from hymns, and a wealth of material from the world's greatest writers.

Shakespeare, John Bunyan, Tennyson, Robert Browning, and Mark Twain have their say, as do important theologians, philosophers, politicians, statesmen. Quotations are organized topically and indexed by source and scripture passage for quick reference.

“As a Dictionary this book has everything . . . it is a book in which to browse and into which to dip at random, always to emerge with treasures old and new.”

—William Barclay

Ministers, teachers, anyone seeking pertinent material to enrich talks, sermons and speeches, will find the CONCISE DICTIONARY OF RELIGIOUS QUOTATIONS their handiest resource.
