• The National Lending Library for Science and Technology, Watson Boston Spa, Yorkshire, England, has begun publishing the NLL Review. The periodical will contain information about the NLL's activities and the ideas behind them. It is intended to be of value both to those who are relying increasingly on the NLL's services and to those who are considering whether similar services should be created elsewhere. The Review is published quarterly by H. M. Stationery Office, price 50p (net) per issue, annual subscription £2.18. It can be obtained from Government Bookshops or ordered through booksellers.

• The 1971 edition of the UCLA Biomedical Library Serials Holdings List has been published and is now available at a cost of $4.50. The SHL is a computer-generated list containing the complete holdings of the over 12,000 journals in the collection of the Biomedical Library. The price includes charges for postage and sales tax. Orders, accompanied by checks made payable to the Regents of the University of California, should be sent to Serials Holdings List, Biomedical Library, Center for the Health Sciences, University of California, Los Angeles, California 90024.

• The Union List of Scientific and Technical Serials in the University of Michigan Library, 6th edition, is now available. It includes more than 24,000 titles drawn from the holdings of twenty-four of the libraries in the University of Michigan library system. Each title entry gives the official main entry, library location, holdings, and call number. Some 6,700 cross-references have also been provided to assist users. All new entries and corrections submitted to the editorial staff through March 15, 1971, have been included. The sixth edition may be purchased for $10.00 from Current Expense Section, Administrative Services Department, University Library, The University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan 48104. ■■

Personnel

PROFILE

In an appointment effective April 1 of this year, Howard University, Washington, D.C., appointed WILLIAM DEAN CUNNINGHAM to succeed the retiring Joseph Reason as director of libraries. Mr. Cunningham has held positions of increasing responsibility in a wide variety of library and library related fields.

Following receipt of his Master of Library Science degree from The University of Texas at Austin in 1963, he held positions as chief of library service at the Federal Aviation Agency, Kansas City, Missouri, from 1965 to 1967, director of adult services at the Topeka, Kansas Public Library from 1967 through 1968. From 1968 until his acceptance of the appointment at Howard University, he held the position of library services program officer in the United States Office of Education in Kansas City, Missouri.

His professional and publishing activities reflect his continuing concern with the problems of minorities in America in general and in the library field in particular. He has served on the Advisory Committee for the ALA Office for Recruitment, the Advisory Committee for Black Economic Union's Library Project, and the Advisory Committee for the Library Project of the Institute of Community Studies. His latest publications include a contribution to The Black Librarian in America published this year and an article in the October issue of Library Trends.

Mr. Cunningham's varied background and his proven concern for the problems of minorities in America should be of great value in the unique and challenging setting which is Howard University.
