Beowulf and The Fight at Finnsburh

A Bibliography

By DONALD K. FRY, Associate Professor of English, State University of New York at Stony Brook. xx, 222 pp., indexes. 6 x 9¼. SBN 8139-0268-1. LC 70-94760. $12.50
(Bibliographical Society)

This is the most complete bibliography available of Beowulf and The Fight at Finnsburh. It includes references to all known texts, works of criticism, articles, and reviews written through mid-1967. Over 2,250 entries are included.

Poetic Knowledge in the Early Yeats

A Study of The Wind among the Reeds

By ALLEN R. GROSSMAN, Associate Professor of English, Brandeis University. xxiii, 240 pp., illus., index. 6 x 9¼. SBN 8139-0253-3. LC 68-8540. $6.50

"The best thing about Allen Grossman's book, 'Poetic Knowledge in the Early Yeats,' is that it rekindles nearly that 'on-first-looking-into' feeling one experiences once or twice in a lifetime."
—Edwin Honig, Virginia Quarterly Review

Visions of the Heavenly Sphere

A Study in Shaker Religious Art

By EDWARD D. and FAITH ANDREWS. xvi, 138 pp., illus., index. 9½ x 10. SBN 8139-0260-6. LC 79-83652. $15.00

This account of Shaker inspirational drawings, generously illustrated with twelve color plates and eighteen figures, deals with a significant area of Shaker culture never before studied in detail. These drawings produced over a century ago depict in a beautiful and unique way the signs and objects of a spiritual world. The Shaker drawings are remarkable because "they reveal the heart of the folk, who, freed for a while to employ the medium, testified to the simple beauty of their faith."

With Hammer in Hand

The Dominy Craftsmen of East Hampton, New York

By CHARLES F. HUMMEL, Curator, The Henry Francis du Pont Winterthur Museum. xiv, 424 pp., frontis, illus., index. 8½ x 11⅝. SBN 8139-0124-3. LC 67-27362. $17.50

"This . . . is the story of the Dominy family, clock and furniture makers in the 18th Century and 19th Century, and of their tools, workshops, account books, and other surviving memorabilia. . . . In addition to being a fascinating story, this book has great reference value. The wealth of illustrations and meticulous descriptions of early tools form a useful identification manual in a field that is at best only partially documented in current literature. This work by Mr. Hummel, a highly competent scholar, is for any library."
—Library Journal

Winterthur Portfolio 5

Edited by RICHARD K. DOUD. 226 pp., illus., index. SBN 8139-0280-0. LC 64-7642. $10.00

This latest Winterthur Portfolio is centered on aspects of Maryland history, culture, and art. The subjects with many illustrations range from architecture through furniture design to book collecting, and they greatly enrich our understanding of eighteenth- and nineteenth-century Maryland.

Volumes 1 through 5 of the annual Winterthur Portfolio series are available from the Press. Librarians are encouraged to place standing orders for forthcoming volumes.

libraries, we wrote the book.

Introduction

Our new Computer Data Entry Keyboard (call it the C-Dek) is the key to the most advanced, automated library circulation system since John Dewey's.

The new C-Dek works hand-in-hand with a computer to provide the first practical answer to your costly, time-consuming administrative and clerical problems. Problems like circulation control, maintaining a reserve list, recording new acquisitions and inventory control.

What's more, our new C-Dek coordinates your book-mobile and branch operations, makes utilization analysis for your books and patrons and records personnel attendance. And it does it all quickly, reliably and economically. In fact, one library cut circulation costs 40% with the C-Dek system.

The C-Dek's modular design provides a flexible system that can be tailored to fit your specific needs. So you can change and add-on when you want. And it's so simple, anyone can operate it.

But even after this introduction, what you should know about our new C-Dek could fill your library. And save you a lot of money. To get all the facts, just write for our little booklet, "Automated Library Systems." Or call. Collect. We'll tell the whole story.

THE PLAINS AND THE ROCKIES

LOST Cause Press has published, on Microcard, every item we have been able to find from the Wagner-Camp bibliography Plains and Rockies. We continue to search.

The first edition of H. R. Wagner's bibliography came out in 1920 after some 27 years' work of compilation. In 1937 a second edition was printed. From 1922 C. L. Camp shared the work with Mr. Wagner and revised the third edition. Included in this bibliography are books, magazine articles, Federal documents, some compilations and newspaper items of personal experience written between 1800 and 1865. Geographical scope includes the region lying between the Missouri River and the Sierra Nevada Cascades, from Mexico to the Arctic (with omission of Texas and what is now Western Louisiana — and in Canada everything East of the Red River).

The historical material we have assembled here on Microcard is essential to the student of pioneer history.

Approximately 537 volumes, postpaid.....$5,280.00*

On orders placed after December 30, 1969, the price will be $7,920.

A set of catalog cards will be included with this shipment, at no additional charge.

*Duplicates of items already in library collections may be returned for credit within six months after receipt of shipment.

QUIET!

Two new editions of Current Contents®
are being born.

The next two noises we make in your library will be titled: Current Contents—Agricultural, Food & Veterinary Sciences and Current Contents—Engineering & Technology. Their goal is the same as yours. To help make the library a more efficient, meaningful source of information.

These are the sixth and seventh Current Contents® offspring of the Institute for Scientific Information. (The others: Physical Sciences; Life Sciences; Chemical Sciences; Education; Behavioral, Social and Management Sciences.) If they enjoy as much success as the rest of the family has known, we'll be very proud parents, indeed.

These new editions of Current Contents, like the others, will be published weekly. They will each cover over 700 significant journals in their respective fields.

And they will be current. Many contents pages appear in advance of the publication's arrival in your library.

If your library doesn't use Current Contents, let us send you a free copy so you can evaluate its great worth for yourself.

If you are one of the many Librarians who already subscribe to other editions of Current Contents, let us send you free copies of these newest members of the family for your perusal.

After that we promise to be quiet... at least until we announce the arrival of the next edition of Current Contents.

these libraries, the scope of material available to both student and faculty is greatly increased.

- As of April 1, 1969, all PURDUE UNIVERSITY librarians, who until that date had the status of "with the rank of" Instructor, Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, and Professor, henceforth will hold the titles of "Instructor in Library Science," "Assistant Professor of Library Science," etc. They and new appointees will have identical tenure under American Association of University Professors interpretations and the same entitlement to sabbatical leaves as do all Purdue instructional faculty. Such tenure and sabbaticals have in fact been enjoyed for twenty-five years by Purdue professional librarians, but the new, quite universal questing by faculties across the country for increased institutional input raised locally the question of definition of "faculty" and caused some challenge of "with the rank of" status. A committee of the library staff worked out with the administration and the university Committee on Faculty Promotions the local problem of librarian status and titles, with the above result.

- A new two-year master's degree program is being offered in an interdisciplinary curriculum under the auspices of the School of Library Science and the School of Public Administration at the UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA. The purpose is to train persons to become administrators in medical or health-related libraries. Candidates may have a major in either library science or public administration and a minor in the alternate field. Eight stipends of $2,400, on an annual basis, plus dependency allowance of $500 per dependent, and payment of all tuition and fees are available for 1970-1971, to qualified candidates. Further information about this program may be obtained from the School of Library Science.

- The limitations which law, tradition, and the standards of good taste impose on human expression will be explored in four experimental courses on censorship which will be offered this fall at the UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA. The classes may well be the first of their kind in the nation. The courses offered to graduate students will be "Censorship in the Performing Arts," "Intellectual Freedom and Censorship," and "Contemporary Problems in the Freedom of Speech." There will also be a "Colloquium on Literary Censorship," open to undergraduates.

- The UNIVERSITY OF UTAH's new five-story library—the largest constructed on a college campus in 1967—was officially named the J. Willard Marriott Library during ceremonies held in August.

Mr. Marriott, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Marriott-Hot Shoppes, Inc., contributed $1 million to the university and its library development program last spring—the largest single private contribution ever received by the university. Among the factors prompting the Washington businessman's special interest in the library are the continuing knowledge explosion and the powerful surge in student enrollments. "In spite of dramatic advances in teaching technology, the campus library remains the center and foundation of the learning process at the university," he remarked.

The new five-story structure has a minimum capacity of 1,500,000 books. It contains about 300,000 square feet of floor space—enough to accommodate nearly six football fields. During the past year more than a million-and-a-half persons have entered the library. The daily traffic averages between 8,000 and 9,000 persons.

- A book will be produced and published by students in Richard L. Grossman's "Book Publishing Workshop" at New York University, starting in the fall semester. This two-semester workshop is offered by the NYU School of Continuing Education. It will meet from 6:15 to 8:00 p.m., Tuesdays, Sept. 23-Jan. 13, at Grossman Publishers, Inc., of which Mr. Grossman is president, and will use the facilities of Viking Press, of which he is a vice-president. In the fall semester students will concentrate on manuscript acquisition, contract negotiation, editorial conferences with a writer, manuscript handling, book design, and copy editing. Suppliers of outside services and production will visit and work with workshop students. Enrollment is limited and preference for the spring semester course will be given to those who have enrolled in the fall semester. More information is available from the NYU School of Continuing Education, 1 Washington Square North, New York 10003; telephone (212) 598-2373.

PUBLICATIONS

- The 1969 edition of Access, a new reference tool designed to help scientists and technical librarians locate specific source documents containing information of chemical interest, is now available from Chemical Abstracts Service. Compiled by CAS in cooperation with 397 libraries in twenty-eight nations, Access provides complete identification of source publications customarily cited in the scientific literature by abbreviated title and indicates which of the participating libraries maintain files of the cited publications. The 1969 edition covers some 21,000 periodicals, monographs, and conference proceedings volumes, including essentially all publications abstracted by Chemical Abstracts since 1907, those abstracted by Chemisches Zentralblatt since 1830, and those cited by Beilstein's Handbuch der organischen Chemie prior to 1907.

For each of these publications, Access lists the full title and its standard abbreviation, the ASTM CODEN for the title, the language of publication, publication history, price, publisher, and the volumes of the publication available in each of the participating libraries. The 1969 edition also includes a directory of the participating libraries indicating the lending or photocopying services each provides, a listing of the libraries' holdings of patent documents, and a directory of publishers and sales agents.

Information in the 1969 edition will be kept up to date through quarterly supplements, which will be offered on an annual subscription basis beginning in December 1969. Data from both the first edition and the supplements will also be available in computer-readable form. Access supersedes and replaces the Chemical Abstracts List of Periodicals, published by CAS since 1908.

The 1,500-page 1969 edition of Access is priced at $100.00. An annual subscription to the quarterly supplements is $75.00. Orders or inquiries should be directed to Subscription Fulfillment, Chemical Abstracts Service, The Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio 43210.

- The Pennsylvania State University libraries announce publication of Australiana in the Pennsylvania State University Libraries, compiled by Dr. Bruce Sutherland, Professor Emeritus of English Literature, and edited by Mildred Treworgy, associate librarian. This 390-page bibliography is no. 1 in a new Bibliographic Series which was begun to serve the needs of the academic community as well as to measure the growing collections of the Penn State University libraries. In the foreword, W. Carl Jackson, director of libraries, states "It is with considerable gratitude . . . that we embark upon this series with a work produced by a notable scholar based upon one of the Libraries' outstanding collections." The price for Australiana in the Pennsylvania State University Libraries is $7.00 and it may be obtained by sending an order to 102 Pattee Library, University Park, Pennsylvania 16802.

- A Bibliographic Guide to Black Writing in the U.S.A., considered to be the first publication of its kind, has been issued by Drake Memorial Library at the State University College at Brockport, New York. The guide was compiled by Dr. Pat M. Ryan, a professor of English at Brockport. The compilation was begun under the auspices of a federally sponsored Urban Problems Institute at the college. The guide consists of four sections: archives, bibliography and reference, periodicals, and collections.

Ryan plans to add two additional sections in the future covering general background and individual authors. The guide is being distributed to libraries and persons involved in Black studies programs.

- C/I/L Patent Abstracts is a new bi-monthly journal consisting of the official abstracts and graphics describing newly granted U.S. patents relative to the computer, information and library sciences. Edited by Leonard Cohan, director of libraries, Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn, this selective current-awareness tool permits rapid scanning of pertinent items otherwise scattered throughout the many irrelevant thousands appearing monthly in the U.S. Patent Office's Official Gazette. Abstracts appear in their entirety and are arranged sequentially according to patent number. Patent titles have been permuted and indexed by key words (KWIC Index) to accelerate retrieval of items of specific interest. Each bimonthly issue contains approximately 200 patents selected as applicable from those appearing in the Gazette during the previous two-month period. Publication commenced with the July-August 1969 issue and a subscription for 1969 (3 issues) is priced at $17.50; for 1970 (6 issues), $35.00. A special introductory subscription covering both 1969 and 1970 is offered at only $45.00. Subscriptions and requests for sample copies should be sent to the publisher, Science Associates/International, Inc., 23 East 26th Street, New York 10010.

- The University of Pittsburgh libraries announce the second, third, and fourth publications in their Bibliographic Series. The second, The Chinese Local History—A Descriptive Holding List, describes the holdings of the university's East Asian library in the most important sources for Chinese social studies. The price of the publication is $3.00. The third is A Descriptive Checklist of Acquisitions, 1963-1968 of the Archives of Industrial Society, a center established in 1963 to collect and preserve records concerning the development of industrial society, with emphasis on Pittsburgh and Western Pennsylvania. Its price is $2.00. The fourth is a buckram-bound book catalog, the Catalog of the Library of the Center for Regional Economic Studies of the University of Pittsburgh, June, 1969, priced at $40.00.

Orders should be placed with the University of Pittsburgh Book Center, 4000 Fifth Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania 15213. Purchasers other than tax-exempt institutions must add a 6 per cent sales tax to the prices quoted. Orders for less than $10.00 must be accompanied by remittance.

- The merger of two established metallurgical journals—ASM Transactions Quarterly and Transactions of The Metallurgical Society of AIME—was announced jointly by the American Society for Metals, Metals Park, Ohio, and The Metallurgical Society of AIME, New York City. The publication will be known as Metallurgical Transactions.

The editorial objective of Metallurgical Transactions will be to provide a single journal of recognized professional stature devoted to all aspects of research and significant engineering advances in materials science and metallurgy. This includes the extraction and refining of ferrous and nonferrous metals and subsequent conversion and use as engineering materials.

A Joint Commission representing both societies has been established to guide publication of the merged journal, with full and continuing consideration to editorial policy, review standards and procedures for submitted papers, and related publishing standards. Professor Gerhard J. Derge of the Department of Metallurgy and Materials Science at Carnegie-Mellon University, and editor of Transactions of The Metallurgical Society of AIME for the past eleven years, has been selected as editor of Metallurgical Transactions.

Cost of the new Metallurgical Transactions will be $10.00 a year to ASM/AIME members, with a $20.00 fee for the annual bound volume. Nonmember price will be $35.00 a year or $50.00 for the annual bound volume. It will be published monthly, starting in January 1970, to an international subscription list of some 8,000. In addition, annual bound volumes will be published in an estimated three-book set, with contents grouped by topics.

• The availability of a "National Slide Library on Audio-Visual Media in Education," consisting of 366 color 2" x 2" slides showing audio-visual materials and equipment in use and other educational activities, has been announced by the National Audio-Visual Association, 3150 Spring Street, Fairfax, Virginia 22030. Duplicate sets of the "Library" are offered for sale to educational institutions, federal, state, and local educational agencies, audio-visual businesses, and others interested in the audio-visual field. The purpose of the "Library" is to provide a resource for local use in preparing visual presentations having to do with A-V media. The slides in the "Library" are indexed under such headings as motion pictures, television, filmstrips and slides, overhead projection, audio, A-V production, reading equipment and materials, programmed instruction, and others. Many categories include slides showing several different grade levels, facilitating the preparation of presentations for specialized audiences.

The "Library" is offered for sale to educational organizations and National Audio-Visual Association (NAVA) member companies at $65.00 plus postage, or $62.50 postpaid if check accompanies order. It is available only as a complete unit of 366 slides. The "Library" is not available for preview; however, the Association will ship sets on a 15-day approval basis, subject to full credit if reshipped to the Association in good condition not more than 15 days from the date of shipment by NAVA.

• A Survey of Libraries, Part II: Academic Libraries has been published by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, Education Division, Adult Education Section. It is available from The Queen's Printer, Ottawa, Ontario, Canada. Price 75 cents. ■ ■

LIBRARY BINDING INSTITUTE

Applicants are now being accepted for the 1970 Library Binding Institute $1,000 scholarship award. Graduates, undergraduates and librarians who are doing work in a special area of research through a library school are eligible. Applications must be mailed to the Scholarship and Awards Committee by January 12, 1970. For an application and additional information write to: Dr. Frank B. Sessa, Chairman, Scholarship and Awards Committee, ALA Library Education Division, Graduate School of Library and Information Sciences, University of Pittsburgh, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania 15213.

Johnson Reprint
Catalogue
-- and we'll send it to you nine times.

Six times a year, we follow-up our three catalogues with an informative newsletter that's also a complete updating supplement.

Why?

Well, within the months between catalogues, we republish hundreds of new titles. One of them might just be the one you're looking for—and we wouldn't want to keep you waiting. The newsletter is free and is issued bi-monthly. It includes a cumulative, "since-January" list and—a new feature—an article about one of the many scholars and bookmen who serve as our consulting editors.

There's news about the book world, JRC, and comments on our new listings, too. To make sure that the Newsletters are always at your fingertips, we provide a durable, shelf-size folder with every subscription.

To subscribe, just write us. (And if you don't have a JRC Catalogue to update—just ask for it.)
