■ College and university faculty members occupy pivotal positions in today's world. They are consultants, expert witnesses, creators and leaders of public opinion, authors, inventors—they are, in short, the kinds of people other people need to identify, locate, correspond with, telephone, visit.

The National Faculty Directory with its 330,000 listings is the first—and only—comprehensive locator for these influential individuals who are often inquired about at every reference desk in the nation.

Until now, information on the academic community has been available only in piecemeal form in individual college catalogs, association membership lists, who's who's, and similar hard-to-maintain and hard-to-use sources.

Now, The National Faculty Directory gives you a single source . . . arranged alphabetically by surname . . . in which to locate virtually any person in the United States who has a full-time or part-time faculty position at any of more than 2,500 colleges and universities. Each listing includes the individual's name, institution name, departmental designation, street address if necessary, city, state, and zip code.

The wide range of activity of academic personnel means that a wide range of other people are interested in them, their affiliations, and their addresses. Publishers; equipment manufacturers; units of federal, state and local governments; newspapermen; management consultants; personnel departments; executive recruiters; research scientists; academic colleagues—all these and hundreds of others are among the users who will hope to find The National Faculty Directory in their libraries.
