ACRL Officers for 1973/74

Norman E. Tanis, director of university libraries at California State University in Northridge, is president of the Association of College and Research Libraries for 1973/74. As president of ACRL, Tanis serves as chairman of the ACRL Executive Committee, of the ACRL Board of Directors, and of the ACRL Conference Program Planning Committee for the 1974 Annual Conference in New York. He also serves as a member of the Choice Editorial Board and as an ex-officio member of the ACRL Planning Committee and of all units of ACRL.

Tanis has been active in ACRL affairs for many years. In the past, he has served as chairman of the Committee on Standards and Accreditation and as chairman of the Junior College Libraries Section. He has been a member of the ACRL/ARL Joint Committee on University Library Standards and of the CRL Editorial Board. He has also served on several ALA committees and as an ALA representative to other educational and professional organizations.

The newly elected vice-president and president-elect of ACRL is H. William Axford, University of Oregon librarian. In the elections held late this spring, Axford received a total of 1,567 votes. Jane G. Flener, associate university librarian for public services at the University of California in Berkeley, received 1,524 votes.

manship of the ACRL Committee on Standards and Accreditation, and membership on the CRL Editorial Board and on the University Libraries Section Urban Universities Library Committee. In ALA's Resources and Technical Services Division, Axford has served as a member of the Committee on Preservation of Library Materials, as a member of the Policy and Research Committee of the Acquisitions Section, and as a member-at-large on the Executive Committee of the Reproduction of Library Materials Section.

As vice-president of ACRL, Axford serves as a member of the ACRL Executive Committee and as an officer on the ACRL Board of Directors. He will chair the ACRL Planning Committee and the ACRL Conference Program Planning Committee for the 1975 Annual Conference in San Francisco. Axford will represent ACRL on the ALA Budget Assembly and on the ALA San Francisco Conference Planning Committee. At the close of the 1974 conference in New York, Axford will become ACRL's thirty-sixth president.

To fill the two openings for director-at-large on the ACRL Board of Directors, ACRL members elected C. Donald Cook, associated instructor on the faculty of library science at the University of Toronto (1,736 votes), and George S. Bobinski, dean and professor in the School of Information and Library Sciences at the State University of New York at Buffalo (1,477 votes). Cook and Bobinski will each serve a four-year term as director-at-large. The two remaining candidates for director-at-large, Bernard Kreissman, chief librarian at the City College in New York, and R. Dean Galloway, director of the library at California State College in Stanislaus, received 1,358 votes and 1,336 votes respectively.

The results of the section elections follow. For each position, the elected candidate is listed first.
