PROFILES

MARTHA A. BOWMAN has been named university librarian at the University of Louisville, Kentucky, effective January 1. The title of university librarian is new and reflects a re-organized administrative structure. From July 1971 until his retirement in July 1982, John T. Demos had held the top library management position, first as director and later as dean of libraries.

For the past seven years Bowman has been with the Gelman Library at George Washington University, and since 1978 she has held the position of associate university librarian. Before joining the Gelman Library staff, Bowman had been with the University of Maryland at College Park since 1969. Her last position at that institution was as head of the acquisitions department.

She is the immediate past president of the District of Columbia Library Association and is currently chair of the Poster Sessions National Committee for ALA's 1983 Annual Conference. She has served as an academic consultant to Howard University, Catholic University, and the World Bank.

RICHARD K. GARDNER, professor of library and information science at the University of California, Los Angeles, and former editor of Choice (1963-1966, 1972-1977), has been named director of the Ecole de Bibliothéconomie at the University of Montreal. Gardner has been on the faculty at UCLA since 1977. He had previously served on the library school faculty at the University of Montreal, the only ALA-accredited school that provides all instruction in the French language, from 1969 to 1972, the last two years as director.

Gardner served as the founding editor of Choice when it began under a grant from the Council on Library Resources in 1963. He continued as editor until 1966 when he left to teach at the School of Library Science at Case Western Reserve University, and returned for another term as editor in 1972.

Many of the editorial policies that have made Choice the leading review journal for college libraries were begun in its formative years by Gardner.

Gardner's recently published textbook, Library Collections: Their Origin, Selection, and Development, won the 1982 Blackwell North America Award presented by ALA's Resources and Technical Services Division as the best publication of the year in the area of library resources. Other publications include the Opening Day Collection published by Choice (1967), and with Nguyen Xuan Dao a Bibliography of Periodicals Published in Vietnam (1959), where he was library advisor to the Vietnamese government.

Gardner holds master's and Ph.D. degrees in library science from Case Western Reserve University and a diploma in literature from the University of Paris.

JOHN A. HARRISON, associate librarian for public services at Yale University, has accepted appointment as university librarian at the University of Arkansas, Fayetteville, effective July 1. He succeeds Royal Pope, who retired from that position last July 31.

Harrison has been at Yale since 1965 when he joined the staff as librarian of the Kline Science Library. Prior to that time he had served at Harvard, first as circulation librarian in the Widener Library from 1962 to 1964, and then as librarian of the Gordon McKay Library of Engineering and Applied Physics. In 1969 he became librarian for the sciences at Yale, a position he held until 1975 when he was promoted to associate librarian for public services. His MLS is from the University of Michigan.

Harrison has served as consultant to the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institute, the University of Virginia, Southern Connecticut State College, and other institutions. He has been a member of the Research Libraries Group's Public Service Committee since 1979 and was chair of the RLG Space Task Force in 1976-77.

All Perk and No Work?

Riaz Ahmad, former head of the Oriental Studies Collection at the University of Arizona, Tucson, wrote a letter to his colleagues saying he had arrived in Sakaka, Saudi Arabia, where he had been appointed the director of the library. He said that the library is larger than he expected and is quite beautiful with marble floors and mosaic tile walls. It has no books, no furniture, and no staff at the moment. He says that he is "really starting from scratch."

Ahmad is currently staying in the Governor's guest house. The house is surrounded with gardens of date palms, orange, guava, olive, and citrus trees and grape vines. His assignment during the first month is to familiarize himself with the area and the people. He has a Mercedes Benz and a driver/interpreter standing by to assist him.—From the AzU Library Newsletter.

It's Time To Try A New ROUTE.

Introducing ROUTE. The Newest Module In Faxon's LINX System.

Now there's a computerized system for creating, updating and printing journal routing slips. The ROUTE system.

With ROUTE, all the time-consuming details of managing routing lists are taken care of for you. ROUTE keeps track of who gets what publications; it lists readers by name, location, address and other identifiers you specify; it can prioritize routing order by title or other parameters; and it produces all your routing slips for you.

ROUTE also gives you valuable management and statistical reports, a simplified procedure for changing reader records, and much more.

For the full story on easy-to-use, easy-to-learn ROUTE, part of Faxon's LINX serials management system, just return the coupon or call 617-329-3350; outside of Boston, call 800-225-6055.

Show Me The ROUTE.

I'm looking for a way to manage periodical distribution more efficiently. Send me all the facts on your ROUTE system right away.

From 1937 to 1950 Pilkington served as reference librarian at the New York Public Library, where he founded and edited American Notes and Queries in 1941. In 1952 he was appointed librarian of Hamilton College. His scholarly activities included research on the life and works of Samuel Kirkland and Ezra Pound and continued after his retirement in 1976. He is the author of a history of Hamilton College (1962) and editor of the Journals of Samuel Kirkland (1981). ■■

JONES/HOWARD AWARD

Eight state and regional library associations have been selected as recipients of the $5,000 J. Morris Jones and Bailey K. Howard World Book Encyclopedia ALA Goal Award, administered by the ACRL Bibliographic Instruction Section through its Continuing Education Committee.

These associations will receive a maximum of $625 to underwrite the cost of traveling workshops from the 1979 and 1981 ACRL/BIS preconferences to local areas.

Winners, workshops, and dates are as follows:

• Pacific Northwest Library Association, "The One Hour Stand," August 1983.

• ACRL New England Chapter, "Can Bibliographic Instruction Teach Students to Think?," October 1983.

• Arizona State Library Association, "Conceptual Frameworks for Bibliographic Instruction," October 1983.

• New Mexico Library Association, "Teaching Librarians to Teach," November 1983.

• Hawaii Library Association, "Conceptual Frameworks for Bibliographic Instruction," May 1983.

• District of Columbia Library Association, "Library Instruction for Faculty and Graduate Students," November 1983.

• Tennessee Library Association, "Teaching Librarians to Teach," September 1983.

• Kentucky Library Association, "Teaching Librarians to Teach," October 1983.

Winners were announced at the ALA Midwinter Meeting in San Antonio and were evaluated by members of the ACRL/BIS Continuing Education Committee during the Fall of 1982. Criteria included the expressed needs of librarians unable to attend past preconference workshops, consideration for geographic balance of areas not previously served as the site of an ALA or ACRL workshop, and the quality of the proposal.

For further information on the Jones/Howard Award, contact Anne Beaubien, Hatcher Graduate Library, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, MI 48104: (313) 763-5060. ■■

Errors Noted

In "Modern Greek Names in the Library Catalog," a paper contributed by Martha Lawry for ACRL's Second National Conference in Minneapolis, several errors appeared in the hardcopy edition, Options for the 80s (Greenwich, Ct.: JAI Press, 1982), Pt. A, pp. 169-81. The errors were primarily in the printing of Greek letters.

Specifically, almost all of the upsilons ( $\upsilon$ ) were printed as nus ( $\nu$ ) and one kappa ( $\kappa$ ) became a nu ( $\nu$ ); in Figure 6, several kappas ( $\kappa$ ) were printed as chis ( $\chi$ ), and one tau ( $\tau$ ) as a pi ( $\pi$ ); and Figure 1, although photocopied directly from the typescript so that the correct letters were reproduced, was mislabeled.

For the correct version of this paper, please see the microfiche edition.—Martha Lawry, Acting Head, Catalog Division, Ohio State University Libraries, Columbus.
