

Management and Publication Division of the Library of Congress, Washington, D.C., retired August 21, 1987. Poole served in the government for 34 years, including 30 at the Library. He joined the Library in 1957 as a searcher in the Exchange and Gift Division, and was promoted the following year to translator in the Air Information Division. Thereafter he was research analyst with the Defense Research Division (later the Federal Research Division). In FRD Poole was promoted to unit supervisor and in 1967 was made head of the Reference and Control Section. In February 1972, he joined the Catalog Publication Division as project manager of the 1968-1972 NUC Quinquennial, and became assistant head of the NUC Publication Section in March 1975. In December 1977 he was promoted to project manager of the 1973-1977 NUC Quinquennial, a massive editorial undertaking that appeared in 128 volumes. Poole became assistant head of the Editorial Section II in 1982. A native of Beaumont, Texas, he received a bachelor's degree from the University of St. Thomas (1952), a master's degree in Russian from Georgetown University (1957) and an MLS from the University of Maryland (1973). Poole served four years in the U.S. Army and was trained in the Russian language for military intelligence work.

DIANE M. PRIESTLY, librarian in the Law School Library at the University of Victoria, British Columbia, retired June 27, 1987. Friends and colleagues gathered to celebrate the naming of the library in her honor.

MARION RIOTH, longtime library director at Ottawa University, Kansas, has announced plans to retire this spring.

DAISY SHENHOLM, director of the Mabel Smith Douglass Library at Rutgers University, New Brunswick, New Jersey, for the past 18 years, retired July 1, 1987. Shenholm served as chairperson of the University Senate during 1986-1987.

DORIS T. SHOCKLEY, assistant head of the Newspapers and Microforms Department at Duke University, Durham, North Carolina, retired effective December 31, 1987, after 30 years of service.

Death

MARION L. MULLEN, head of the Reference Department at Syracuse University, New York, since 1973, died December 13, 1987, after a long illness. Mullen was born in Syracuse and was a Syracuse graduate, having received her MLS there. Mullen was a member of ALA's Government Documents Round Table and served on the Reference and Adult Services Division's Committee on Bibliography. She was also a member of the New York Library Association and a former member of its Reference and Adult Services Section Reference Committee. A member of the Syracuse Alumni Association, Mullen was past president of the Libraries' Staff Association and was a life member of the School of Information Studies Alumni Association. Mullen was also a member of the Beta Phi Mu, having served as president of the Pi Lambda Sigma Chapter and as a member of the National Assembly and Executive Board. ■■

PUBLICATIONS

● Activism in American Librarianship, 1962-1973, edited by Mary Lee Bundy and Frederick J. Stielow (207 pages, October 1987), is a collection of essays that examine the involvement of activist librarians in shaping institutional change within their profession and the overall effect this social movement has had on the outlook of a new generation of librarians. Topics of particular interest include: the civil rights movement and American librarianship, the war and librarianship, intellectual freedom activism, academic libraries in the Sixties, the ALA Black Caucus, and a photographic essay of the era. Copies may be ordered for $37.95 from Greenwood Press, 88 Post Road West, Box 5007, Westport, CT 06881. ISBN 0-313-24602-5.

● Building Women's Studies Collections: A Resource Guide, edited by Joan Ariel (48 pages, 1987), has been published as number 8 in the Choice Bibliographical Essay series. The guide contains 18 categories of published materials or sources for women's studies including print, audiovisual, and electronic media. The sources are primarily located in the United States, although a handful of other English-language materials are mentioned. In addition to full bibliographic or contact information, entries include short descriptions and cost information where available. Copies may be ordered for $12 from Choice, 100 River-view Center, Middletown, CT 06457. ISBN 0-914492-07-1.

● Financial Aid for Veterans, Military Personnel

and Their Dependents, 1988-1989, by Gail Ann Schlachter and R. David Weber (240 pages, December 1987), is a guide to the nearly $1 billion in financial aid set aside for these groups by public and private agencies. More than 600 references are provided to programs sponsored by professional groups, foundations, educational associations, military/veterans organizations, and government agencies. Indexes cover program titles, sponsoring organizations, geographic coverage, subjects, and deadline dates. The volume may be ordered for $32.50 (plus $2.50 handling) from Reference Service Press, 10 Twin Dolphin Drive, Suite B-308, Redwood City, CA 94065. ISBN 0-918276-07-X.

• The Invasion of the Giant Spore, by Sandra Nyberg (19 pages, November 1987), published as SOLINET's Preservation Leaflet number 5, answers frequently asked questions about mold in libraries and archives. Common treatments for controlling mold are described and evaluated, and prevention tips are enumerated. SOLINET members may obtain the leaflet free of charge; others should send a self-addressed, 56¢-stamped envelope with their request to: SOLINET, Plaza Level, 400 Colony Square, 1201 Peachtree Street, N.E., Atlanta, GA 30361.

• Retrospective Conversion Guidelines for Libraries is a new pamphlet published by OCLC that offers planning tips, explains record conversion options, and provides a bibliography of recent publications on the topic. The pamphlet includes a summary of five conversion options and a special section of questions to ask prospective vendors. A free copy may be ordered from OCLC, Inc., 6565 Frantz Road, Dublin, OH 43017-0702.

• Stress Management in Work Settings (200 pages, 1987) is a collection of original contributions that address current issues and problems. Part I deals with organizational stress and its assessment; Part II describes aspects of stress management in the work setting; and Part III lists resources for training materials, products, and equipment. Copies may be ordered for $9.50 from Dept. 36-ZE, Superintendent of Documents, Washington, DC 20402-9325. Stock no. 017-033-00428-5.

• A Union List of Montana Newspapers in Montana Repositories (270 pages, 1987) is the end product of Montana's participation in the U.S. Newspaper Program of the National Endowment for the Humanities. It lists the 1,121 Montana newspaper titles the project found extant, with holdings and format information, from the first territorial in 1864 to the present. Copies may be ordered for $10 (postpaid), from the Montana Historical Society Library, 225 N. Roberts St., Helena, MT 59620. ■■

CALENDAR

March

6-11—Rare Books: Florida Antiquarian Book Seminar, University of Florida, Gainesville. Sponsored by Book Seminars, Inc., in cooperation with AB Bookman's Weekly, the program will include a survey of the antiquarian book trade, a profile of the general dealer, the book from the perspective of the bibliographer, descriptive cataloging, pricing, authentication and forgery, acquisition sources, and libraries and collectors. Fee: $425. CEUs: 3.0. Contact: Book Seminars, Inc., 4024 N.W. 15th St., Gainesville, FL 32605; (904) 378-8144.

17-19—Composition: 39th Annual Convention of the Conference on College Composition and Communication, Clarion Hotel, St. Louis. Theme: "Language, Self, and Society." Contact: CCC Convention Information, National Council of Teachers of English, 1111 Kenyon Road, Urbana, IL 61801; (217) 328-3870.

25—Preservation: "The Well-Tempered Collection: Environmental Protection of Library and Archival Materials," continuing education seminar, Graduate School of Library and Information Science, University of Texas at Austin. Speaker: Paul Banks. Fee: $35. Contact: Continuing Education, GSLIS, EDB 564, University of Texas, Austin, TX 78712-1276; (512) 471-3821.

April

14-16—Africana: Archives-Libraries Committee (African Studies Association), Spring Meeting, Boston University. Contact: Vicki Evalds or Gretchen Walsh, African Studies Library, Boston University, 771 Commonwealth Ave., Boston, MA 02215; (617) 353-3726.

19-23—Texas: Texas Library Association, 75th annual conference, Corpus Christi. Keynote speaker will be Liz Carpenter, author and former press secretary to Lady Bird Johnson. Contact: Patricia Smith, Texas Library Associa-