isi Institute for Scientific Information

ISTP[®] and ISSHP[®] index current information as soon as it becomes available . . . sooner than other publications. So they're the first places to look for the information you need.

Plus, ISTP and ISSHP are the best indexes to proceedings literature . . . indexing thousands of individual papers published in conference proceedings in 91 key disciplines. And each index contains several easy-to-use access points that make searching simple and efficient. Which adds up to blue-ribbon reference.

Please send me a free sample issue of the index(es) I've checked below. I understand there is no cost or obligation.

Popular culture and libraries

A new ACRL discussion group will examine the relationships (or lack thereof) between libraries and popular culture materials. Popular culture materials include genre fiction, comic books and strips, pulp magazines, dime novels, show business memorabilia, trading cards, greeting cards, big little books, and similar everyday ephemera that can be considered integral to American life, yet which the library profession has traditionally considered trash unworthy of collection. The last two decades have seen a steady increase in the scholarly and aesthetic evaluation of such materials.

The discussion group will consider the problems involved in meeting the needs of a popular culture clientele, including identifying existing collections, establishing cataloging standards, preservation, collection development, reviewing new and often overlooked materials, and educating the general library profession to recognize their value.

Interested parties wanting additional information should contact Allen Ellis, W. Frank Stealy Library, Northern Kentucky University, Highland Heights, KY 41076.

Join the Celebration in Cincinnati

It seems like only yesterday that a group of librarians founded the College Library Section of the American Library Association. But that was back in 1889 and it's just about time to celebrate the first century of academic librarianship.

The second century of academic librarianship begins in Cincinnati on April 5, 1989.
