It is known that the head of our state put forward 5 important initiatives to organize work in the social, spiritual and educational spheres on the basis of a new system.

The first initiative serves to increase the interest of young people in music, painting, literature, theater and other types of art, to reveal their talents.

The second initiative is aimed at physical training of young people, creating the necessary conditions for them to demonstrate their abilities in sports.

The third initiative is aimed at organizing the effective use of computer technology and the Internet among the population and youth.

The fourth initiative is aimed at raising the morale of young people, the organization of systematic work to promote reading among them.

The fifth initiative addresses the issue of women's employment.

This noble idea was launched during the visit of President Islam Karimov to the Syrdarya region, and in a short time great work has been done. 300,000 copies of fiction were delivered to district and city libraries in the region. Music and art schools were equipped with musical instruments, sports facilities.

This work was continued in Namangan region, where the "Caravan of Enlightenment" was organized. 25,000 books, 80 types of sports equipment and musical instruments were delivered to the youth.

In short, these 5 initiatives have been met with great interest by our people, especially our youth.

The issues of wide implementation of this experience in all regions of Uzbekistan were discussed at the meeting.

Today, more than 800 cultural centers, 312 music and art schools in the country cover only 130,000 boys and girls, most of which are not adequately equipped with textbooks, music sets, musical instruments, furniture and equipment.

The head of state instructed to study the material and technical base of local cultural centers, music and art schools and the state of their use, and to improve their activities.

The Ministry of Culture and the Ministry of Public Education, together with khokimiyats, have been tasked to establish an additional 1,500 clubs in district (city) cultural centers and secondary schools based on the interests of young people. It was noted that with the involvement of talented young people and local sponsors, it is necessary to establish amateur art groups, youth theater studios and "Youth Clubs" in cultural centers.

Given the fact that the association of well-known artists and talented artists as assistants to the cultural work in the districts is yielding good results, instructions were given to spread this experience throughout the country. According to him, well-known artists are attached to districts and cities as creative consultants, where they promote culture and art.

will be responsible for development, and district and city mayors will provide material and organizational support for this work.

Attention was also paid to the issue of increasing the number of highly educated personnel in the field of music and art.

The Ministries of Higher and Secondary Special Education and Public Education have been instructed to organize history classes on specific topics in museums, historical monuments, shrines and theaters.

Discussing the issues of the second initiative, it was noted that there are more than 12,000 sports facilities in the country, but the level of coverage of young people in physical culture and mass sports is insufficient. The level of equipping secondary schools with sports equipment is 56% in the country, including 12% in Surkhandarya region, 14% in Khorezm and 15% in Karakalpakstan.

The meeting identified measures to involve young people in physical culture and sports.

Deputy mayors of districts and cities on youth issues, together with specialists, were instructed to study the interest of young people in sports and the level of equipment of sports facilities, to make proposals on this basis, to determine the source of funding for their implementation.

It was noted that in remote and remote villages it is necessary to build small gyms and artificial turf from lightweight sandwich panels, to allocate land for entrepreneurs to build sports facilities. The NBU will provide soft loans to such entrepreneurs under the Youth is Our Future program.

It was noted that the appointment of well-known athletes who have won international competitions in local sports schools, as well as targeted training of athletes in special correspondence departments of higher education institutions will give good results. Tasks were given to increase the number of sports schools for children and adolescents.

Special attention was paid to the protection of young people from harmful attacks on the Internet, training them in the effective use of information technology.

The Ministry of Information Technologies and Communications has been instructed to establish Digital Technology Training Centers in all city and district centers on the basis of best international practices. These centers provide free training in e-commerce and programming, provide innovative business skills in the field of information technology, and support startup projects.

Despite the fact that all schools today have computer technology, it has been criticized that the internet service is not used enough. The Ministry of Public Education and the Ministry of Information Technologies and Communications have been tasked to develop an action plan to provide computer classrooms in all schools with modern technologies and high-speed Internet by 2021.

It was noted that the establishment of computer game centers with the involvement of enterprising entrepreneurs should include tests, quizzes, development strategies and other useful programs that will serve to expand the knowledge and outlook of children and youth.

Awakening in young people a love for books from childhood, the formation of independent thinking and a broad outlook will be a solid foundation in their way of life. But many villages and neighborhoods do not have the necessary conditions for this. The Information Resource Centers, which replaced the previous libraries, failed to fulfill their tasks.

Given these circumstances, the new initiative plans to deliver additional books to places based on the number of young people.

The head of state instructed the relevant ministries and associations to publish books on artistic, educational and social issues within the project "Caravan of Enlightenment" and deliver at least 1 million copies to the Republic of Karakalpakstan and all regions.

It was noted at the meeting that local governments should establish one model bookstore in each city and district center. the display function is loaded.

Women's employment issues were also discussed.

For this purpose, in 2019-2020, it is planned to establish 195 sewing and knitting enterprises from sandwich panels in all districts. To build them, densely populated, labor-intensive areas have been selected. As a result of the establishment of these enterprises, it is planned to create more than 24,000 permanent jobs for women.

Taking into account the fact that the number of women willing to work is much higher than the number of jobs, the President said that the organization of work in enterprises in 2 shifts, with the products they need. a video conference was held on the issues of promoting reading and increasing women's employment.
